

School of Theatre, Performance and Cultural Policy Studies and the Department of Classics and Ancient History

Research Seminar Series:
Professor Ahmed Etman

3:00pm, Thursday 27th May 2010
G56, Theatre Studies, Millburn House

Greek Theatre on the Arab Stage: Egyptian Playwrights and the Classical Tradition

Professor Etman is based in the Faculty of Arts at the University of Cairo. He is a major Egyptian theatre critic and playwright with many of his plays translated into English, Spanish and French. His research interests are broad but centre on translation, comparative literature and cross-cultural knowledge formation. His recent research publications include Classicism in Renaissance Theatre and the Restored Tradition in the Plays of Shakespeare and Racine (1999) and Ancient Greek Literature: A Human and Universal Legacy (2001).

WARWICK