

Clinical Leadership Competency Framework

Self assessment tool

Clinical leadership is not a new concept and the need to optimise leadership potential across the healthcare professions, and the critical importance of this to the delivery of excellence and improved patient outcomes, is now increasingly echoed by clinicians, managers and politicians within the UK and internationally.

Clinical leadership in the health and care services is about delivering high quality services to patients by:

- demonstrating personal qualities
- working with others
- managing services
- improving services, and
- setting direction.

Clinicians will exhibit a range of leadership behaviours across these five domains dependent on the context in which they operate. It is essential that all clinicians are competent in each of the five core leadership domains: demonstrating personal qualities, working with others, managing services, improving services and setting direction.

To help users understand and apply the Clinical Leadership Competency Framework each domain is divided into four elements and each of these elements is further divided into four descriptive statements which describe the behaviours all staff should be able to demonstrate.

Clinicians can use the five domains of the CLCF throughout their career. However, the Leadership Framework relates to all staff groups and is a broadly progressive framework which will help clinicians recognise their stage of leadership development in the context of all other colleagues. The CLCF is embedded within the Leadership Framework and the first 5 domains are identical. In addition, the Leadership Framework has two additional domains designed to support those in senior leadership roles.

Self assessment tool

This self assessment tool aims to help you manage your own learning and development by allowing you to reflect on which areas of the leadership framework you would like to develop further.

Please note that the information you provide is not stored anywhere on the website. We recommend you download and save this document so that you can refer back to it when reviewing your development plans.

Support

Download the CLCF document from <http://www.leadershipacademy.nhs.uk/lf-supporting-tools> for a range of clinically based examples and learning scenarios that will help clinical staff acquire the leadership competence required to meet the challenges described.

An online toolkit is also available to support your leadership development at <http://www.leadershipacademy.nhs.uk/leadership-development-module>.

LeAD is a free and engaging e-learning resource to help clinicians develop their understanding of how their role contributes to managing and leading health services. To register for LeAD, please visit <http://www.e-Ifh.org.uk/projects/lead/register.html>.

You will also find a personal action plan template starting on page 8.

1. Demonstrating Personal Qualities

Effective leadership requires individuals to draw upon their values, strengths and abilities to deliver high standards of service. To do so, they must demonstrate effectiveness in:

- Developing self awareness by being aware of their own values, principles, and assumptions, and by being able to learn from experiences
- Managing yourself by organising and managing themselves while taking account of the needs and priorities of others
- Continuing personal development by learning through participating in continuing professional development and from experience and feedback
- Acting with integrity by behaving in an open, honest and ethical manner.

Look at statements below:

- On the scale next to each statement, choose a rating that reflects how frequently it applies to you
- Total your scores after each domain and reflect on how you have scored yourself

DEMONSTRATING PERSONAL QUALITIES
Developing Self Awareness
I reflect on how my own values and principles influence my behaviour and impact on others
I seek feedback from others on my strengths and limitations and modify my behaviour accordingly
Managing Yourself
I remain calm and focused under pressure
I plan my workload and deliver on my commitments to consistently high standards demonstrating flexibility to service requirements
Continuing Personal Development
I actively seek opportunities to learn and develop
I apply my learning to practical work
Acting with Integrity
I act in an open, honest and inclusive manner - respecting other people's culture, beliefs and abilities
I speak out when I see that ethics or values are being compromised
TOTAL

Total your scores and reflect on what you have given yourself. If you have mainly red and orange circles in any particular domain, these domains may be areas you wish to develop further. If you have green circles then check that these are not overplayed strengths. An overplayed strength could be a behaviour you over rely on and one which might impact negatively on your performance.

2. Working with Others

Effective leadership requires individuals to work with others in teams and networks to deliver and improve services. To do so, they must demonstrate effectiveness in:

- Developing networks by working in partnership with patients, carers, service users and their representatives, and colleagues within and across systems to deliver and improve services
- Building and maintaining relationships by listening, supporting others, gaining trust and showing understanding
- Encouraging contribution by creating an environment where others have the opportunity to contribute
- Working within teams to deliver and improve services.

Look at statements below:

- On the scale next to each statement, choose a rating that reflects how frequently it applies to you
- Total your scores after each domain and reflect on how you have scored yourself

WORKING WITH OTHERS
Developing Networks
I identify opportunities where working collaboratively with others will bring added value to patient care
I share information and resources across networks
Building and Maintaining Relationships
I communicate clearly and effectively with others
I listen to and take into account the needs and feelings of others
Encouraging Contribution
I actively seek contributions and views from others
I am comfortable managing conflicts of interests or differences of opinion
Working within Teams
I put myself forward to lead teams, whilst always ensuring I involve the right people at the right time
I acknowledge and appreciate the efforts of others within the team and respect the team's decision
TOTAL

Total your scores and reflect on what you have given yourself. If you have mainly red and orange circles in any particular domain, these domains may be areas you wish to develop further. If you have green circles then check that these are not overplayed strengths. An overplayed strength could be a behaviour you over rely on and one which might impact negatively on your performance.

3. Managing Services

Effective leadership requires individuals to focus on the success of the organisation(s) in which they work. To do so, they must be effective in:

- Planning by actively contributing to plans to achieve service goals
- Managing resources by knowing what resources are available and using their influence to ensure that resources are used efficiently and safely, and reflect the diversity of needs
- Managing people by providing direction, reviewing performance, motivating others, and promoting equality and diversity
- Managing performance by holding themselves and others accountable for service outcomes.

Look at statements below:

- On the scale next to each statement, choose a rating that reflects how frequently it applies to you
- Total your scores after each domain and reflect on how you have scored yourself

MANAGING SERVICES
Planning
I use feedback from patients, service users and colleagues when developing plans
I assess the available options in terms of benefits and risks
Managing Resources
I deliver safe and effective services within the allocated resource
I take action when resources are not being used efficiently and effectively
Managing People
I support team members in developing their roles and responsibilities
I provide others with clear purpose and direction
Managing Performance
I analyse information from a range of sources about performance
I take action to improve performance
TOTAL

Total your scores and reflect on what you have given yourself. If you have mainly red and orange circles in any particular domain, these domains may be areas you wish to develop further. If you have green circles then check that these are not overplayed strengths. An overplayed strength could be a behaviour you over rely on and one which might impact negatively on your performance.

4. Improving Services

Effective leadership requires individuals to make a real difference to people's health by delivering high quality services and by developing improvements to services. To do so, they must demonstrate effective in:

- Ensuring patient safety by assessing and managing risk to patients associated with service developments, balancing economic consideration with the need for patient safety
- Critically evaluating by being able to think analytically, conceptually and to identify where services can be improved, working individually or as part of a team
- Encouraging improvement and innovation by creating a climate of continuous service improvement
- Facilitating transformation by actively contributing to change processes that lead to improving healthcare.

Look at statements below:

- On the scale next to each statement, choose a rating that reflects how frequently it applies to you
- Total your scores after each domain and reflect on how you have scored yourself

IMPROVING SERVICES
Ensuring Patient Safety
I take action when I notice shortfalls in patient safety
I review practice to improve patient safety and minimise risk
Critically Evaluating
I use feedback from patients, carers and service users to contribute to improvements in service delivery
I work with others to constructively evaluate our services
Encouraging Improvement and Innovation
I put forward ideas to improve the quality of services
I encourage debate about new ideas with a wide range of people
Facilitating Transformation
I articulate the need for change and its impact on people and services
I focus myself and motivate others to ensure change happens
TOTAL

Total your scores and reflect on what you have given yourself. If you have mainly red and orange circles in any particular domain, these domains may be areas you wish to develop further. If you have green circles then check that these are not overplayed strengths. An overplayed strength could be a behaviour you over rely on and one which might impact negatively on your performance.

5. Setting Direction

Effective leadership requires individuals to contribute to the strategy and aspirations of the organisation and act in a manner consistent with its values. To do so, they must demonstrate effective in:

- Identifying the contexts for change by being aware of the range of factors to be taken into account
- Applying knowledge and evidence by gathering information to produce an evidence-based challenge to systems and processes in order to identify opportunities for service improvements
- Making decisions using their values, and the evidence, to make good decisions
- Evaluating impact by measuring and evaluating outcomes, taking corrective action where necessary and by being held to account for their decisions.

Look at statements below:

- On the scale next to each statement, choose a rating that reflects how frequently it applies to you
- Total your scores after each domain and reflect on how you have scored yourself

SETTING DIRECTION
Identifying the Contexts for Change
I identify the drivers of change (e.g. political, social, technical, economic, organisational, professional environment)
I anticipate future challenges that will create the need for change and communicate these to others
Applying Knowledge and Evidence
I use data and information to suggest improvements to services
I influence others to use knowledge and evidence to achieve best practice
Making Decisions
I consult with key people and groups when making decisions taking into account the values and priorities of the service
I actively engage in formal and informal decision-making processes about the future of services
Evaluating Impact
I take responsibility for embedding new approaches into working practices
I evaluate the impact of changes on patients and service delivery
TOTAL

Total your scores and reflect on what you have given yourself. If you have mainly red and orange circles in any particular domain, these domains may be areas you wish to develop further. If you have green circles then check that these are not overplayed strengths. An overplayed strength could be a behaviour you over rely on and one which might impact negatively on your performance.

Next Steps

Having completed your self assessment, we would encourage you to discuss your results with your Line Manager, mentor or trusted colleague.

You may find it helpful to ask your Line Manager or colleagues to also download the document and rate you against some or all of the leadership domains. Coming together and comparing their ratings with your self ratings can provide valuable insight into your leadership behaviour.

Next, you may wish to develop a personal action plan to help you consolidate your development areas. An action plan template is available on the next page.

Hints and tips on action planning

- Define your action plan in SMART terms (Specific, Measurable, Action oriented, Realistic and Time bound). This will help you reach your goals.
- Identify individuals you want to talk to about your action plan and who can help you make it happen.
- Assess potential obstacles and how you might be able to overcome these.
- Think about how you can utilise your strengths to help you reach your goals.
- Identify resources that are available to you or that you will need to obtain in order to achieve your goal e.g.what resources (internal, external) can you draw upon in order to reach your goal?
- Write action steps to help you reach your goal and assign a completion date to each one.
- Set a date to evaluate your progress towards your goal.
