Coventry
1997
This Sources Booklet is dedicated to the memory of Sir Victor Gollancz, publisher and humanitarian, and in gratitude to his family, especially his daughter, Livia, for their generosity in presenting his papers to the University of Warwick. Livia Gollancz's co-operation with and assistance to what proved to be a lengthy archive process is especially appreciated.

PREFACE

The personal papers of Sir Victor Gollancz are not only of great importance: they are tremendous fun.

Although many of the movements and causes which engaged Gollancz may seem at first glance rather dull, the involvement of that extraordinary and contradictory personality ensured that they were suffused with vigour, excitement and controversy: his papers abound with furious, happy, expostulating, enlightening, absurd, hilarious and inspiring correspondence.

The Gollancz papers are a magnificent quarry for anyone interested in mid-twentieth century cultural, humanitarian, political, or social history. Just at random I think of the extensive and absorbing material on his close but fraught relationships with the Communist and Labour parties and with organisers of such causes as Christian Action, the National Association for the Abolition of Capital Punishment and the Campaign for Nuclear Disarmament.

Then, too, there are the myriad papers concerning Gollancz’s complicated relationship with the Judaism that he hated and loved. Relevant papers cover Judaeo-Christian relations, anti-semitism, desperate efforts to rescue European Jews, post-war work for reconciliation with Germany and his pro-Arab Jewish Society for Human Service.

Livia Gollancz showed wisdom as well as great generosity when she donated her father’s papers to Warwick. As one of the many people who has benefited from the helpfulness of the staff of the Modern Records Centre, I would like to express my gratitude for their professionalism and dedication and my admiration for Richard Storey’s skill and hard work in producing a catalogue which makes sense of an enormous and invaluable archive.

INTRODUCTION

It is both a privilege and a responsibility to be entrusted with the arrangement and cataloguing of the personal papers of a major public figure. It is also, one should acknowledge, one of the principal intangible rewards of being an archivist. Interrupted as it has been by the continual pressures of large institutional archives, the process which has resulted in this Sources Booklet has been long drawn out (with the attendant difficulties of ensuring consistency of treatment), although in mitigation it has to be said that some 30-40,000 items have been involved, received in several accessions.

The papers in question, of Sir Victor Gollancz, publisher and humanitarian (about which two American universities had expressed interest in his lifetime), relate mainly to his personal interests, especially as a humanitarian activist and campaigner. Publishing is, however, by no means absent, being represented partly by correspondence about and drafts of Gollancz's own writings and anthologies, which were published under the Gollancz imprint, and partly by miscellaneous files and letters assigned to personal rather than publishing filing. The basic division into the two series, personal and publishing, was made when the correspondence was dealt with and some subject files were created by his secretaries. Using this given structure, further subject files have been created as part of the archive process, partly with the object of reducing the 'Miscellaneous' correspondence, which, even so, comprises over 5,000 items.

This Sources Booklet is not intended to be a replacement for the detailed catalogue of the papers (MSS.157), but to draw potential researchers' attention to it. This catalogue is available in the Modern Records Centre, at the National Register of Archives in London, and in the microfiche series National Inventory of Documentary Sources (Chadwyck-Healey, Cambridge).

It should be noted that the Modern Records Centre holds on deposit some of the publishing archives of Victor Gollancz Ltd. (MSS.318). These include production books, 1927-70, contract ledgers, 1927-72, MS.-entering books, 1956-89, and some correspondence, including on Great short stories of detection......, edited by Dorothy L. Sayers. The deposit also includes extensive correspondence of Livia Gollancz, who succeeded her father as chairman (this correspondence is not at present listed or available). The publishing deposit does not include correspondence with authors, which is understood to be held in title files by the present company.

Richard Storey

There are also separate files relating to Illustrated (3/IL/1) and the Leader: VG's dissatisfaction with a profile, 1949-50 (3/LE/1).

PERSONAL AFFAIRS
This series (3/P/AC-ST) was created to deal with aspects of VG's personal and family life, ranging from the collection of antiques and works of art (3/P/AN/i & 1-2) to letters of sympathy and condolence to Lady Gollancz and their daughter, Livia, on his final illness and death, 1966-7 (3/P/ILL/1; 3/P/CON/1-5). (Letters of condolence to Livia on the death of her mother, 1973, will be found at 6/LG/1-2.) One small file (3/P/AR/1/1-7) relates to VG's archives and includes several approaches from N. America. A small group of correspondence and papers of Lady Gollancz, including letters from and about Stanley Spencer and Isaac Rosenberg and some of her sketchbooks, will be found at 6/RG/1-11.

Other topics include: congratulations on his knighthood, 1965 (3/P/KN/1); letters of sympathy on his accident, 1961 (3/P/AC/1/1-351), and on his stroke, 1966 (3/P/ST/1/1-94); Brimpton Lodge and its garden (3/P/BRI & GAR); aspects of the bringing up and education of his daughters (3/P/CHI/1; 3/P/DOM/4,7) and other domestic and family matters, including his sister, May, and his father's estate (3/P/DOM/1-3). Something of a curiosity is a file about VG's withdrawal of his acceptance of the cross of honour and merit from the Sovereign Order of St. John of Jerusalem, based in the USA, 1963 (3/P/SJ/1).
PERSONALIST GROUP
The group was set up in 1945 to study and disseminate personalist belief that personality is the most valuable entity. The file comprises correspondence with J.B. Coates and policy statements (3/PE/1/1-21).

POLITICAL ORGANISATIONS
Contacts with a variety of political organisations in the 1930s (3/POL/1/1-106) include correspondence re VG's desire "to take an active part in Labour politics", 1931 (3/POL/1/1-12). There is also a file about VG's appointment of a personal 'political secretary', 1938, including profiles of and applications from a number of women (3/POL/2/1-45).

- the case of Ernst von Weizsäcker, 1949-50 (3/PR/12);
- the idea of a Ministry of Peace, 1950 (3/PR/14);
- the case of Dr Robert Soblen, 1962 (3/PR/18);
- 'the religion of Satan' letter to the Guardian, 1961, criticising the morality of the big powers (3/PR/24).

PRISONERS' WELFARE
Correspondence with or about prisoners and ex-prisoners concerning their cases, personal history, grievances, search for employment, financial assistance, etc., 1950-66 (3/PRI/1-8). Correspondents include Fenner Brockway, Merfyn Turner, C.R. Hewitt, Arnold Goodman, Lord Pakenham. Access to these files is restricted.

PUBLISHING
In general, as was to be expected from Gollancz' office practice, relatively little direct publishing correspondence was found in his personal papers, other than that relating to his own works. The miscellaneous publishing correspondence, including a few original files, which was found amongst his personal papers has been grouped at MSS.157/3/PUB.

Following the second change of ownership of the firm after his death, some substantial archives of the publishing house have been deposited in the Centre
(MSS.318), although it should be stressed that this deposit does not contain the bulk of correspondence with authors (arranged in title files), which has been retained by Cassell and is understood not to be accessible for research.

The publishing files in MSS.157 (3/PUB/i-vi & 1-32) include the following: attempted acquisitions of other publishers, 1929-30 (3/PUB/iii); dispute with A.D. Peters, the literary agent, re titles going out of print, 1943 (3/PUB/1); other correspondence with literary agents, 1946-9 (3/PUB/2); correspondence re forewords to proposed book on homosexual law reform, 1962 (3/PUB/10); responses to circular about reorganisation of the company, 1965-6 (3/PUB/15); correspondence with Penguin Books Ltd., 1946-60 (3/PUB/20); two files (3/PUB/25-6), containing together over 400 items of miscellaneous correspondence on publishing matters, 1925-66 (mainly post-1943).

SAVE EUROPE NOW
This movement originated in letters to the press in August 1945 from a number of public figures, including VG, appealing for the contribution of rations to relieve distress in Europe. An invitation meeting was followed by a mass meeting at the Albert Hall, a delegation to the Minister of Food and a memorial to the Prime Minister.

For the work of SEN see Peggy Duff, Save Europe Now 1945-1948. Three years' work.

File relating to the invitation meeting (3/SEN/1/1-181); original file re proposal to surrender rations, correspondence mainly with the Prime Minister, 1945-6 (3/SEN/2/1-16); 2 original files of documentation, apparently relating mainly to SEN, 1945-6 (3/SEN/3-4).
3 files in the series relating to letters to the press (3/PR/2,4,5) are related to SEN.

THEATRE
Two artificial files, 1928-39, 1946-64, of correspondence (and supporting documentation) with theatrical organisations and personalities (3/TH/i & 1). Includes reference to Left Book Club theatre scheme, 1937 (i/1-2); O. Ebelspacher's English School Theatre scheme (i/15-23); correspondence with J.B. Priestley, mainly re his play 'Time and the Conways', 1937 (i/34-7); appeals by various theatres, groups and producers, post-war (3/TH/1).

TRAVEL
An extensive series of files (3/TR/1-63), mainly post-1945, relating partly to holidays and holiday plans, but also to VG's annual business visits to the United States to meet American agents, publishers and writers and acquire publishing rights. The American files include numerous letters reflecting VG's relations with American colleagues and supplement the file of correspondence with American publishers (3/USP). The series also includes a file, 1947-50, on a visit to Germany and on a cancelled visit scheduled for 1954 (3/TR/2,10) and files on cancelled plans for visits to Australia (3/TR/29-30) and India (3/TR/24).
UNITED EUROPE MOVEMENT
Inaugurated in May 1947 by an all-party British Committee, to promote study of and interest in the aim of uniting Europe and to secure support for it. The five files include minute and related papers, 1947-9, 1951-3, correspondence, including Lord Boothby, Evelyn King and Bertrand Russell, papers and publications (3/UE/1-5).

UNITED STATES PUBLISHING
Artificial file of correspondence with US publishers, agents and a few authors, 1928, 1945, 1948-66. Contents mainly, but not exclusively, social: visits, hospitality, gifts, etc. (3/USP/1/1-552).

UNITED STATES PUBLISHING see also MSS.157/3/TR for files on visits to USA to meet publishers, agents and writers

WHO KILLED KENNEDY COMMITTEE

* * * *

In addition to the subject file series (MSS.157/3) described above, the Gollancz Papers include some other categories of documentation, information on which is given below.

Diaries
7 notebooks compiled during VG’s Save Europe Now visit to Germany, Oct-Nov 1946 (8/GE/1-7).

Photographs
Prints of most of the illustrations of In darkest Germany, captioned by VG on reverse (157/12/GE/1).
Similar photographs, not used in the book; also of Düren, and of dismantling of Schiess-Defries Werke (157/12/GE/2-4).

Photographs of refugee conditions, Middle East, in connection with Jewish Society for Human Service (157/12/JS/1).

Personal photographs: small group, 1930s-'60s (157/12/P).

Press-cuttings

An extensive series (MSS.157/10), even though weeded.

Of particular significance are cuttings relating to VG's post-war involvement with Germany, profiles and obituaries of him, and cuttings re some of his published works. Some single cuttings and small groups have been transferred to appropriate subject files.

Published works

Some of VG’s works are held as part of the archive (MSS.157/4).

Left (Book) News, nos.1-90 (incomplete; 1936-43) and some ephemera are also held (MSS.157/4/LB/1-2).

Some miscellaneous publications, mainly political pamphlets, have been grouped together at MSS.157/5.

Texts

There are a few texts of work by VG (MSS.157/7/LI), in addition to those to be found in MSS.157/3/LI. They include his play 'Daughters', 1913, an extensively altered text of More for Timothy, and ch.7 of My dear Timothy, amended by VG. There are also a few miscellaneous writings by others, which have no other context.
