The Entrepreneurial Garden

The Entrepreneurial Garden is a Centre for Entrepreneurship and Small Business Management, which combines our facilities and academic resources.

It is a place that brings people and ideas together at the heart of an ecosystem: entrepreneurs, businesses, students, lecturers, academics, researchers, coaches, experts, and institutions respectively contribute to the promotion and development of an entrepreneurial mindset.

Our actions are driven by three core principles:

• Individual skills have to be promoted

• Entrepreneurship is based on the diversity of individuals who are constantly reacting to their surroundings. They are thus both the producers and the products of their constantly evolving ecosystem;

• Entrepreneurial behaviour produces economic and social value.

Entrepreneurship is first and foremost a state of being and acting to transform the world. Our responsibility is to learn to create it.

What We Stand for at The Entrepreneurial Garden

The ideas behind TEG courses stem from the following principles:

• Collective learning and effectual teaching are the basis of our teaching methods

• Academic professionals and practitioners are part of our educational and pedagogical teams

• Each participant learns entrepreneurship by experiencing real life situations

• Daily individual and collective feedback is given on their findings
