Introduction

The Warwick ELT Archive (http://warwick.ac.uk/elt_archive) is a stand-alone, browsable historical collection of published and unpublished materials relating to the teaching of English to speakers of other languages and the development of applied linguistics, c.1880–c.1990. The collection constitutes a unique resource for students, teachers, researchers and others interested in the history of ELT, and the histories of language teaching and applied linguistics more broadly.

Housed on mobile shelving in the University of Warwick Department of Applied Linguistics Learning Resources Room, this unique collection, which consists mainly of textbooks, has been built up gradually since 2002, initially on the basis of donations of materials from members and former members of staff in the (then) Centre for English Language Teacher Education (now, Department of Applied Linguistics), University of Warwick, and subsequently on the basis of acquisitions from a much wider range of interested individuals and institutions/organizations (see website for a full list of donors). In March 2005 a substantial existing collection was incorporated, the University of Edinburgh 'Dakin Collection', and in December 2010 we received a significant donation of materials from Dr Charles Forbes (which we have termed the 'Forbes Collection') mainly consisting of U.S. and Middle Eastern publications.

This latest edition of the collection's catalogue lists 4,672 published items (almost all of them books) which are accessible on shelves. This compares with 3,966 items in the 3rd edition (2013), 3,643 items in the 2nd edition (2009) and 2,727 items in the 1st edition (2008). In the Archive itself, items are arranged according to decade, and within each decade according to title of publication (or, in the case of teaching/learning materials, name of series). In this printed catalogue, on the other hand, items are instead ordered alphabetically according to first author's surname, with an additional section at the end for items whose authorship is unknown.

The production of this updated 4th edition of the catalogue was enabled by generous grants from the A.S. Hornby Educational Trust. Cataloguing for previous editions was sponsored by the University of Warwick Research Development Fund (2003), the Hornby Trust (2005–2007) and the British Council (2009–2011).

This edition is based on extensive cataloguing work by Calum McDonald-Webb, followed by careful editing by Zhang Yi, under the coordination of Richard Smith. Cataloguing work for previous editions was carried out by Aruni Mukherjee (2004–2008) and Sheila Verrier (2009–2011). Books from the decade 1980–89 have, for the most part, not yet been catalogued, though they are accessible on shelves, and it is hoped that details of these will be entered over the next few years (a separate 3rd edition (2013) catalogue of 'Selected items published from 1980 onwards' does contain some 1980s items which have already been catalogued). Another priority is to detail the large amount of archival material we have collected (see the 3rd edition (2013) catalogue of 'Unpublished archival material' for information about some of this material. We also hold AV material (tapes, gramophone records, films etc.) which we hope will be catalogued in the future.

Please contact Professor Richard Smith (R.C.Smith@warwick.ac.uk) if you wish to consult, find out more about or offer support for the Warwick ELT Archive collection.
